The University of Illinois at Chicago
Jane Addams College of Social Work
Tenure-track Assistant Professor

Summary:

Jane Addams College of Social Work at the University of Illinois at Chicago invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position. Candidates for this prospective faculty position should be committed to social work’s role in the promotion of social, racial, and economic justice for inner city residents and urban communities. We are seeking candidates with expertise in the area of school social work or youth development.

Job Responsibilities:

The College’s faculty, staff and student body are culturally, racially and ethnically diverse; its academic programs, research centers, and service programs are ranked among the best in the nation. Faculty are actively engaged in research and sponsored projects that have significant social impact in child welfare, criminal justice, behavioral health, health inequalities and other areas. We invite applicants who will help expand these mission-driven, community-based research and service partnerships.

Qualifications:

Applicants for the position must show clear evidence of potential for excellence in teaching, service, and research. Applicants should have a master’s degree in social work and a doctorate in social work or a related field is required by the time of appointment. Two or more years of post-MSW social work practice experience is preferred. Appointment starts in August 2018.

To apply, please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, and the name and address of three references to Chang-ming Hsieh, Faculty Search Committee Chairperson.
